

Amount Requested: $2,500,000

The Viticulture Consortium is a competitive grants program administered by Cornell University and the University of California (Davis) to provide funding for viticulture research across the nation.